Introducing our Accelerated Career Development Program

www.amcor.com/accelerate

The opportunity

- Amcor is a global leader in responsible packaging solutions, and manufactures the packaging for many well-loved brands in America and around the world
- Experienced MBAs or Master's Degree holders who join the Amcor Accelerated Career Development Program will have opportunities to drive the company's growth internationally by taking on roles with significant responsibilities in locations around the world

What is the Amcor Accelerated Career Development Program?

- A three-year program – but a permanent opportunity (it's all about creating a pipeline of future leaders)
- A chance to make an immediate impact – you'll take on two roles in Sales and Marketing, each lasting 18 months
- An opportunity to go global – there will be international relocations and you'll be responsible for projects that go beyond borders

Who are we looking for?

- Ambitious, collaborative and commercially savvy graduates with a Masters or MBA and five to seven years' progressive experience
- People who are driven to outperform – leadership potential is also a must
- People who can bring a strong customer focus, an innovative, dynamic, courageous and pragmatic approach, plus exceptional business English and fluency in at least one other European language

What can you expect?

- The chance to take on a real role with a global leader in responsible packaging solutions – to tackle real projects, enjoy real responsibility and get real scope to showcase your talents
- Exposure to some of the most senior people in our business
- Ongoing mentoring, world-class training and international relocations designed to broaden your experience and expand your network

What happens next?

- Apply online at www.amcor.com/accelerate/apply – if your profile fits the requirements, you'll be contacted directly by our recruitment team to provide you with more information
- Pass this first stage and you'll be asked to complete a recorded video presentation
- Your next step will be an interview by an assessor over the phone or by video
- Finally, you'll be sent online assessment tests to complete
- Impress us through all of these steps, and you'll be invited to one of our three assessment centres – 20 people will then be invited to join our Accelerated Career Development Program
